MILESTONE YEAR FOR MACHINE SHOP

This year will be a milestone year for the ArcelorMittal Machine Shop as they celebrate their 100 yr. Anniversary and the 60th year of the retirement party. The party is held at the Halls of St. George in Schererville, Indiana and is the longest running party in the industry.

It is held to honor the service of the retiring personal of the Machine Shop. The yearly event is a gathering of approximately 70 retired and 20 active employees that share a similar dedication to keeping the party going. There is plenty of memorabilia for the men to reminisce of the good times and the bad and see themselves, as they were when they started their careers as young men providing for their families.

The mix of young and old is joined together by the machinist trade that offered them a tough but rewarding career and enabled them to see the steel business evolve over the years. There are many jobs that keep the steel business viable, but none more satisfying than completing a project that takes a wide variety of talents and expertise to complete. There is no piece of machinery in the mill that these men have not repaired or improved on over the span of their careers thus providing the satisfaction that comes with their job. The party survived through the years by a dedicated group of individuals that were intent on not letting this tradition end. There are many men to thank for keeping this party going for 60 years. I thank them for their passion and I know that there is self-satisfaction in doing something like this. This year's party will be held on
