Justin Trudeau is going to be speaking at the University of Chicago this Wednesday at 4:30pm.

Can you participate in a small rally at 3:45pm on Wednesday?

We're working with friends in Chicago to put together a quick rally in front of the University of Chicago's Institute of Politics, calling on Trudeau to keep his labor and environmental promises in NAFTA.

Canadian negotiators are urging the United States to roll back so-called state "right to work" laws that undercut worker power in the US. Workers across North America are counting on Trudeau to hold the line.

Please email me if you are thinking of attending:

Chicagoans Demand Trudeau Keep NAFTA Promises

This Wednesday, February 7

3:45-4:30pm CST

Meet at Sanctuary Cafe, 5655 S University Ave (in the University Church building). It's half a block from Mandel Hall, where the event will take place. Call Toby at 260-224-1760 if you have trouble finding the group.

Again, shoot us email if you're able to attend on Wednesday.
